Defending investigations & prosecutions

Mark Wilson heads the Cartwright King business defence team. He has spent 20 years specialising in corporate crime and regulatory cases.

Mark was a partner in the Freeth Cartwright corporate crime department for a number of years prior to a management buy-out in which he was one of the founding partners of Cartwright King. He remains a consultant of Freeth Cartwright.

The Cartwright King business defence team (and that at Freeth Cartwright beforehand) has been awarded a top band ranking for many years.

Mark is profiled as a leading individual in both Chambers Directory and the Legal 500:

“...ranked in Band 2 in the UK” (Chambers & Partners 2011)

“...is highly regarded for his work in relation to MTIC frauds and money laundering’ and ‘is a key figure” (Chambers & Partners 2011)

“...They are responsive, professional and accessible” (Chambers & Partners 2011)

“...skilled handling of heavy weight tax fraud proceedings”

“...draws praise for his “energy, strategic thinking, client focus and depth of knowledge” (Chambers & Partners 2011)

“...authorative yet approachable” (Legal 500, 2009)

“...superb, a pleasure to deal with and has a great knowledge of the sector” (Chambers, 2008)

“...superb client-handling and technical knowledge” (Chambers, 2007)

“...leading player” (Legal 500, 2006 & 2007)

His recent health & safety experience includes:

- advising an international surveying practice in a negligence manslaughter investigation
- representing an agricultural silo construction company in a negligence manslaughter investigation
- representing a building company in a negligence manslaughter prosecution following a double fatality during demolition
- representing a contract cleaning company in a negligence manslaughter prosecution following a double fatality during the ‘builders clean’ of new premises
- representing an international building company following a multi-storey building collapse during demolition
- representing the UK’s largest printing company following an injury accident.
